

Thursday, December 27th, 2012 --

Today's workshop was optional, as so many of our students were traveling or still in the midst of holiday celebrations. Karina, K and I got to together in Studio B of the KRTS Studios and mixed Karina's advertisement for Text-Away, the fake product we wrote scripts for during the last workshop.

You can listen to Karina's ad here .

Mixing this ad began our direct work with the software we will be using to mix radio stories - Adobe Audition.

Thanks for following along with the KRTS Youth Media Project!
